2015-2016 Law School Financial Aid Fact Sheet

ACCEPTING YOUR FINANCIAL AID

- Please review your Financial Aid Award Letter. Your award letter and any revisions to your initial aid package can be found by going to https://tuportal.temple.edu, and clicking on the Financial Aid tab.

- Codes listed on your award letter explain the status of your aid at the time the letter was produced.
  - A, WA = “Accepted.” This is the amount (minus origination fees for Direct Stafford or Graduate PLUS loans) that will be applied to your University account at the beginning of each semester – except Federal Work Study which you must work to earn.
  - O = This is an Offer/Estimate only. You must accept the offered award in order to receive the funds.
  - EX = “Expected.” Only used for Outside Scholarships. Please see below.

  Note: Financial Aid funds will not be applied to your University account until all requested paperwork has been received.

- Scholarships. Any academic scholarship listed as accepted (“A” status) on your award letter is based on the most recent information we have. For returning students, the scholarship status may change once your academic eligibility for scholarship renewal has been determined.

- Outside Scholarships. Upon notification of an outside scholarship award, the amount will be listed on your award letter as expected (“EX” status) and will be automatically changed to accepted (“A” status) once the funds are received.

- Changes to your enrollment status will affect your financial aid award. If your enrollment status, (i.e., full or part time, resident, non-resident) or other information changes, your financial aid may require adjustment. Please contact the Law School Financial Aid Office with your updated information.

- Report additional funding sources not listed on your award letter, including Tuition Remission and outside scholarships. These awards may affect your current financial aid package and eligibility for funding, (i.e.; University based grants and Federal Student Loans). If your financial aid package changes you will be notified via your TUmail account to view your updated award on Self Service Banner (SSB).

- Accepting your Award – If you do not have any changes to make you do not need to take any action other than accepting the award online as instructed.

- Making Changes - Review each award and notify the Law School Financial Aid Office if there is an aid source listed that you did not anticipate receiving, are not eligible to receive or do not want. You can also make any changes/updates to your award on-line at https://tuportal.temple.edu

- The financial aid listed on the award letter is for the 2015-2016 academic year only. You must reapply for financial aid each year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) www.fafsa.ed.gov and the Temple Law School Financial Aid Application.

FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS & ELIGIBILITY

The following financial aid programs are awarded to eligible students who demonstrate financial need as determined by the 2015-2016 FAFSA. Each academic year a standard budget is developed which is designed to adequately cover tuition and fees, books and modest living expenses for the period of enrollment (August to May in most cases). A student may receive aid (from any source) up to the amount of this budget, also known as the Cost of Attendance (COA). The Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is the number that is used to determine your eligibility for need-based financial aid and this number results from the financial information you provided in your 2015-2016 FAFSA. The formula used to calculate the EFC was established by the Federal Government. Detailed information about the EFC calculation can be found at www.ed.gov/studentaid. A student’s financial need is determined by subtracting the EFC from the amount of the cost of attendance.

TYPES OF AID

- Federal Perkins Loan - Perkins Loans are low interest loans awarded to law students who are enrolled at least half-time and demonstrate high financial need. If you have been awarded a Perkins Loan, you will be notified via email when the Perkins Loan Entrance Interview and Master Promissory Note (e-MPN) is available to sign. At the website you will also be offered the opportunity to have the information mailed to you. Your Perkins Loan will be credited to your University Account once you have completed an electronic or paper Entrance Interview and Promissory Note.

- Federal Work Study (FWS) - FWS is awarded to upper level law students who are enrolled at least half-time and demonstrate financial need. If FWS is part of your financial aid package, you must work in order to earn this funding and you will be paid on an hourly basis every two weeks up to the amount listed on your letter for each semester. The Federal Work Study amounts listed on your award letter will be offered (“O” status). Once you obtain work study employment, you must take the action of accepting the offered amount online at https://tuportal.temple.edu. You must also complete additional payroll paperwork with the university in order to be paid. If you are working off-campus, you can only receive the funds by obtaining a work study eligible position with an employer who will provide the required 25% match toward the award. The Law School does NOT provide the 25% match during the fall or spring semesters of the academic year.

- Temple University Grants (TUG) - TUGs are awarded to students with demonstrated need and funds are applied directly to the recipient’s tuition. These grants are awarded only to those applicants with the highest need and you must borrow at least $8,500 in a Direct Stafford loan in order to be eligible for a TUG.
Federal Student Loans

Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan – The amount awarded for the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Student Loan is based on your FAFSA information and the amount you requested Federal Student Loan Request section of the Temple Law School Financial Aid Application. Eligible students may borrow up to $20,500 through the Stafford student loan program for each academic year. The full amount of the Direct Stafford Loan will be unsubsidized, which means it will accrue interest while the borrower is in school and throughout the loan grace period. You will be responsible for paying the interest which accrues on any Graduate PLUS loan amounts, but have the option of deferring any payments until you graduate or terminate your studies.

Direct Graduate PLUS – The Direct Federal Graduate PLUS loan is a federally guaranteed, credit-based loan that students can apply for after they exhaust their Stafford loan eligibility. Your eligibility for a Direct Graduate PLUS loan is based on a completed Graduate PLUS loan application that has been approved for credit. You are eligible to borrow up to the cost of attendance minus any aid that you are already receiving for the academic year. You will be responsible for paying the interest which accrues on any Graduate PLUS loan amounts, but have the option of deferring any payments until you graduate or terminate your studies. If you have not been awarded a Graduate PLUS loan and would like to apply for one, please go to the Financial Aid page of the Law School website, www.law.temple.edu for detailed instructions on how to apply.

The amount of federal Perkins Loan, Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford loan and/or Graduate PLUS Loan(s) will be listed as accepted (“A” status) per your request for student loan funds on the Law School Financial Aid Application. In addition, you must maintain at least half time enrollment (5 credits) to retain Federal Stafford Loan eligibility. However, a loan reduction/return may be required if you reduce your credit hours.

Student Loan Approval & Notification – Temple Law School Financial Aid Office will originate your Federal Student Loan(s) electronically. Once the loan is approved, you will receive a notice of guarantee/approval from the US Department of Education.

New Federal Student Loan borrowers must complete a Master Promissory Note and an Entrance Interview by going online to the www.studentloans.gov. Graduate PLUS loan borrowers must also complete a separate MPN and an application for credit for the Graduate PLUS loan. For first time borrowers, these steps must be completed in order for loan funds to be disbursed to your tuition account.

If you wish to reduce the amount of your Student Loan, you can notify the Law School Financial Aid Office directly or access your award online https://tupoportal.temple.edu and change the amounts indicated to the amounts you want. Temple Law School Financial Aid Office will reduce your approval amounts prior to disbursement if possible (at least two weeks notification necessary prior to disbursement).

STUDENT LOAN REFUND

Once your loan proceeds have been credited to your tuition account, you are entitled to any funds in excess of your tuition and fees. If you expect to receive a refund from an Outside Scholarship Source or Veterans Benefits, please note that your refund may be delayed for up to a few weeks depending on when the funds are received and/or if the scholarship organization/agency requires enrollment verification. Refunds can be directly deposited into your individual checking or savings account. You can sign up for direct deposit through Banner Self-Service. Login to TU Portal, https://tupoportal.temple.edu, using your AccessNet username and password. Then, click on Banner Self-Service and follow the instructions to sign up for Direct Deposit.

DEFERRING PAYMENTS ON CURRENT STUDENT LOANS

If you are currently making payments on student loans you borrowed for undergraduate or graduate school, or if your payments will become due while you are enrolled at Temple Law School, you may apply to have your loans placed in deferment status. While your loans are in deferment you are not required to make any payments and will not be responsible for any interest on subsidized loans.

Temple University participates in the National Student Loan Clearinghouse and we will automatically send enrollment information through the Clearinghouse to most Federal Student loan and Federal Perkins loan lenders. You should contact your lender to determine if you need to file a deferment form. If so, deferment forms from incoming first year students may be sent to the Admissions Office. We are unable to certify any deferment forms for first year students until after registration in August. The Admissions Office will hold all deferment requests until that time and will then pass them along to the Law School Registrar’s Office for certification. Returning students should send all deferment forms directly to the Law School Registrar’s Office.
