

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY BEASLEY SCHOOL OF LAW 2018 PHILADELPHIA SUMMER SESSION

Temple Law School will offer a Summer Session in Philadelphia with J.D. classes running from May 21 through July 5 and Tax Program classes running from May 21 through July 26. Classes will be conducted Monday through Thursday in Barrack Hall and Klein Hall (two Graduate Tax courses will be held at Temple University Center City). Room assignments and booklists will be published on the Law School website prior to the beginning of classes. Exams for J.D. courses will be administered on the evenings of July 9 and July 11. Exams for Tax Program courses will be administered on the evenings of July 31 and August 2. Once classes have begun, further information will be provided on the type, date, and time of the exam for each course. Students are expected to be available to take exams during this time frame. In addition, students will be able to take one course provided through online distance education, as described below.

SUMMER SESSION ACADEMIC CALENDAR

May 21	First day of classes (both JD and Graduate Tax)
May 21-24	Add/Drop (both JD and Graduate Tax)
May 28	Due to Memorial Day, Monday classes will meet on Tuesday, May 29
May 29	Memorial Day
June 5	Due to Independence Day recess, Monday classes will meet on Tuesday, June 5
July 4	Independence Day Recess
July 5	Last day of JD classes
July 9-11	Final examinations for JD courses
July 16	JD Diploma date
July 26	Last day of Graduate Tax classes
July 31, August 1	Final examinations for Graduate Tax courses
August 2	LLM Diploma date

REGISTRATION

Students may register for a maximum of six (6) credit hours. Interested students should submit registration requests, using the form provided on the Law School web site, by 3:00 pm on May 9, 2018. Registration requests will be processed after May 9. The Law School Registrar will post the summer course registrations and students will be notified to check Self Service Banner when their summer rosters are complete. For limited enrollment courses, priority will be given to students based on: 1) their having submitted their requests by 3:00 pm on May 9, 2018, 2) their class year, 3) evening or day status, and 4) specific needs with respect to meeting graduation requirements. Requests submitted after 3:00 pm on May 9, 2018 will be processed as they are received. Requests should be submitted on the attached form by hand, fax or as a PDF attached to an email. Submit requests to: Kathleen Wilson, Office of Student Affairs, Barrack Hall, Suite 103 TELEPHONE: (215) 204-8574, FAX: (215) 204-1277, EMAIL: kilson@temple.edu

TUITION

	J.D. Students	Tax LL.M. Students
Pennsylvania Resident:	$966 per credit hour	$874 per credit hour
Non-Pennsylvania Resident:	$1582 per credit hour	$1127 per credit hour

For information regarding billing and/or financial aid, students may call the Law School Financial Aid Office at (215) 204-8943.

VISITING STUDENT ELIGIBILITY

The Summer Program is open to any law student in good standing at an ABA approved law school and to graduates of ABA approved law schools. The Temple Law School Registrar will forward a transcript to each student's law school at the end of the summer. Students who are not matriculated at Temple will be required to forward a letter of good standing from the Dean or other appropriate officer of their law school. The letter must be received by Temple on or before May 14, 2018 and must state unequivocally that the student is in good standing and eligible to continue at his/her law school. The letter must be addressed to Glenn E. Bell, Assistant Director for Academic Affairs, Temple University Beasley School of Law, 1719 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, PA 19122, FAX: (215) 204-5680, EMAIL: glenn.bell@temple.edu

GRADUATE TAX COURSES

Drafting and Analyzing Fundamental Estate Planning Documents is open to JD students and no special permission is needed to register for it. Professional Conduct in Tax Practice and Tax Policy are also open to JD program students, however, JD students first must consult with Louis Thompson, Assistant Dean for Graduate and International Programs (1-215-204-1285); louis.thompson@temple.edu) or Professor Kathy Mandelbaum, Director of the Graduate Tax Program (1-215-204-5382); kathy.mandelbaum@temple.edu) to obtain written permission to register in them. Such registration approvals are to be forwarded to Kathy Wilson via e-mail or fax (kilson@temple.edu; 215-204-1277).

DETAILED COURSE DESCRIPTIONS OF THE SUMMER 2018 SCHEDULE OF CLASSES FOLLOWS:
TEMPLE UNIVERSITY BEASLEY SCHOOL OF LAW
2018 PHILADELPHIA SUMMER SESSION
COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

J.D. COURSES

Law 1060 Section 51: Internet of Things (Bollinger)
3 credits, M 6:00-7:50 pm & W 8:00-9:50 pm – 18 students
Serial Writing Seminar

The Internet of Things (IoT) is the common name for the emerging world of everyday objects such as wearable technology, personal devices, medical electronics, appliances, homes and cars being linked to each other through the Internet. They collect large amounts of data that is stored in cloud platforms and communicated to other devices and to other parties. They provide revenue for businesses that sell data collected from IoT devices. Additionally, they provide developers, governments, researchers, investigators, hackers and others access to analyze information in different ways. This course examines the legal, policy, and technology issues of these and other expanding aspects of IoT, focusing on how lawyers can be integral to course of IoT development.

Law 1015 Section 51: Advanced Legal Writing: Effective Motions Practice in Litigation (Morrow)
3 credits, M 8:00-9:50 pm & W 6:00-7:50 pm -18 students
Serial Writing Seminar

Utilizing one fact pattern, students will learn the purpose of - and how to effectively draft - significant motions as a case is prepared for trial. This writing seminar is designed to provide an in-depth understanding of the primary pre-trial motions used during the course of civil litigation, including: 1) motions to dismiss/preliminary objections, 2) discovery motions, 3) motions in limine, and 4) Frye/Daubert motions challenging expert testimony. Both Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure and local procedural rules governing motions practice will be examined. Emphasis will be placed on the purpose behind the various motions as well as how to effectively draft those motions for use in civil litigation.

Law 5059 Section 51: Drug Law Policy and Practice: Marijuana Regulation (Wilhelm)
2 credits, M 8:00-9:50, W 6:00-7:50 pm – 25 students Non-Exam Skills

This course will analyze how we regulate drugs in the United States, using one of the most current and high profile examples – marijuana. As part of our analysis, we will use a public health perspective to evaluate marijuana policy. Our study of the history and current landscape of marijuana law in the United States will have a particular focus on how policy is made through legislation and regulation. The three goals of this course are for students to: 1) explore how the legal powers of the state work to impact the health of its citizens, 2) develop the practical skills of legislative & regulatory drafting and client document preparation, and 3) gain a foundational understanding of marijuana policy and its effect on their eventual practice of law.

Law 5043 Section 51: Health Care Fraud: Investigation, Prosecution and Compliance (Kaufman)
2 credits, M 6:00-7:50 pm & W 8:00-9:50 pm

This is a course in the investigation and civil and criminal prosecution of health care fraud and abuse. It will introduce the basic statutory structures of the provision of health care in the United States, the mechanisms by which individuals have abused that structure for personal or corporate gain, and the statutes and regulations under which such individuals are held responsible for that conduct. In addition, it will explicate the processes by which such abuse is discovered and investigated, the challenges that such investigations face, and the ways in which both prosecutors and defense counsel can most effectively overcome those challenges and benefit their respective clients.

GRADUATE TAX LL.M. COURSES

Graduate Tax Law G805 Section 51: Drafting & Analyzing Fundamental Estate Planning Documents (Hiscott/Mandelbaum) 3 credits, M 6:00 – 8:20 pm (class ends 7/23)
JD students may take this course without receiving special permission
This course fulfills 3 of the 6 the JD serial writing requirement, and also can fulfill the Experiential (Skills) requirement, but not both
Prerequisites: Law 602 (Trusts & Estates)

Students will learn to draft fundamental estate planning documents (wills, trusts, financial and health care powers of attorney and beneficiary designation forms) against the background of state property law, financial institution contracts and the state (and, sometimes, federal) laws concerning testamentary and non-probate distributions. The course will not focus on federal or state tax issues, although they may occasionally be discussed. Instead, the course will focus on the critical non-tax issues on document drafting.

Graduate Tax Law G807 Section 55: Professional Conduct in Tax Practice (Gulia)
3 credits, W 6:00-8:20 pm (class ends 7/25) (class meets in TUCC)
This course does not satisfy the JD graduation writing requirement
Prerequisites: Law 600 (Taxation), Law 416 (Professional Responsibility)

In the typical contexts of most tax practitioners (that is, advice rather than litigation, and, for an accountant, advice rather than audit or another assurance examination), the essential professional-conduct principles and rules are about the same for lawyers, accountants, and actuaries. Moreover, each kind of professional can learn more about how to interpret her profession's rules by studying another profession's rules. In this course, a student will take a focused look at how professional-conduct norms apply in specific contexts of tax practice. Using what you learn, you can spot difficult professional-conduct problems and be prepared to manage them with confidence. (Research writing seminar, no exam)

Graduate Tax Law G860 Section 55:      Tax Policy (Employee Benefits) (Litvin/Pinheiro)
3 credits, TH (6:00-8:20 pm (class ends 7/26) (class meets in TUCC)-
This course does not satisfy the JD graduation writing requirement
Prerequisite: Law 600 (Taxation)

This writing seminar examines selected aspects of federal income tax policy as it relates to employee benefits and enables students to explore the social and economic choices that underlie the tax system.

Graduate Tax Law G531 Section 55:      Tax Procedure (Ruben)
2 credits, T (6:00-8:20 pm (class ends 7/24)-20 students This course does not satisfy the JD graduation writing requirement Prerequisite: Law 600
(Taxation)

Students explore various procedural problems involved in practice before the Internal Revenue Service, the Tax Court and the U.S. District and Claims Courts in processing and litigating civil tax cases as well as certain other matters. The organization of the Internal Revenue Service, requests for rulings and the summons power of the Internal Revenue Service also will be reviewed.

DISTANCE EDUCATION COURSES

JD students will be permitted to enroll in one course offered online through distance education. These courses will be offered in an asynchronous format, which provides students with some flexibility in scheduling the times when they will view the pre-recorded lectures and complete the assignments. Students will interact with the faculty member through message boards, chat rooms, online faculty office hours and email. NOTE – this pilot program remains in the process of being finalized, and additional details may be provided as they become available.

Students may enroll in only one of these courses during this Summer 2018 semester. ABA Standards require students to have completed 28 credits prior to enrolling in distance education courses. Accordingly, rising 2L part time students are not able to take the summer distance education courses. Students who enroll in a distance education course may also take one of the other non-distance education courses discussed above. The total number of credits taken in a summer may not exceed 6 credits.

Law 524 Section 51:      Consumer Law – 3 credits (Porter) ***

This course is designed to introduce students to the basic principles governing the creation, sale and enforcement of the most common forms of insurance in the U.S. Students will be introduced to the following insurance lines: personal liability, professional liability, commercial general liability, homeowners, automobile, life and casualty and health. The peculiarities of each line will be discussed as well as the problems common to all lines: moral hazard, adverse selection and outright fraud. The social function of insurance as well as historical anomalies are covered in order to give the student the broadest possible exposure to the issues lawyers confront regularly in this area of practice.

Law 601 Section 51:      Sports Law – 3 credits (Marsh) ***

This course considers issues in both intercollegiate and professional sports with an emphasis on constitutional law; tort and criminal law; antitrust, labor law, and other issues of law in the field of sports, such as considerations of Title IX, drug testing, violence, and the role of agents.

* In both Consumer Law and in Sports Law, weekly discussion board posts and weekly assignments, both of which will be completed online, will be graded both for substance and for timely completion. Seventy percent (70%) of the final grade will be based on a final examination, which will be administered and completed online.